

CLINE ELEMENTARY COUNSELING PROGRAM BELIEFS AND PHILOSOPHY

The counseling program at Cline Elementary believes:

- Education is a lifelong process in which individuals grow intellectually, socially, and emotionally.
- The school, home, and community are equally responsible for the educational development of our students.
- Each student is capable of working toward his/her unlimited potential in the following ways: intellectual, creative, artistic, social, physical, vocational, and emotional.
- Each student has the right and responsibility of equal access to all services (academic, career, and social/emotional) provided by the counseling department and the school, regardless of ethnic, cultural, racial, or sexual differences.

All counselors at Cline Elementary will:

- Abide by professional school counselor ethical standards and professional guidelines as specified by the ASCA National Model.
- Abide by ASCA suggestions of appropriate professional school counseling duties and coordinate with school administration to eliminate inappropriate school counseling duties currently implemented.
- Advocate for the academic, career, and personal/social well-being of all students.
