

Reflecting on the Learning Pathway: How to Study a Person

---

Making a Difference: _____ _____	Book Title: _____ _____
When you study an important person, you want to understand how he or she made a difference: How did the character/ person in this book make a difference? What did he or she accomplish?
When you study important people, you want to understand the challenges they may have had in their own lives to accomplish something important: Did this character or person have to overcome any problems in order to make a difference? Explain.
When you study an important person you want to think about what you can learn from her or him: What can you learn from _____ about how to make a difference to yourself or others?
When you study an important person, try to make a personal connection: Would you like to have this person for a friend? Why or why not?
When you study an important person who is a child, think about what his or her life might be like in the future: Do you think this person will continue to make a difference when she or he grows up? Explain.	