

SPEAKER 1: Sabrina, where are your eyes? Can you touch your eyes? Oh, good job.

Can you touch your knee? Nice. How about where are your toes? Where are your toes? Touch your toes. Good job.

Sabrina, I can touch my ear. Can you touch your ear? Yes, you can.

Can you touch-- oh, can you touch your tongue? Mmmm. Good job.

Sabrina, can you touch your chin? Good job.

SABRINA: [INAUDIBLE].

SPEAKER 1: You do it very well. Sabrina, can you touch your ear? Oh, there's your ear.

[LAUGHTER]

SPEAKER 1: You do that so good. Can you touch your toes? Touch your toes. Good job.

Sabrina, can you touch your nose? Where's your nose? There it is.

Can you touch your knees? Perfect. You did that so nicely.

Sabrina, can you close your eyes? Oh, close your eyes. Close them tight like you're sleeping. Tight. Close your eyes.

[LAUGHTER]

Can you touch your nose? How-- oh, there's your nose. Can you touch your toes? You do that so good. Yes, you do such a good job. Such a good job.

One more. Can you clap your hands? Clap. Perfect.

OK. That's gotten what we want. She's followed directions. Did some by herself but is not yet ready to find those things when her eyes are closed. Perfect.