

Technological innovation is now providing us with electricity through wind farms. The one depicted here is the first complete high-sea wind farm on the North Sea coast of Germany.