

Masters and Johnson conducted some of the first laboratory studies of human sexual response.