

A mental health worker meets with patients and their families.