

DSM-5 focuses on ADHD in childhood, but about half of those children with ADHD show similar symptoms in adulthood. DSM-5 suggests that ADHD begins in childhood. In fact, in DSM-5, both adult and childhood ADHD are seen as neurodevelopmental disorders that begin in childhood. However, until