

Individuals with psychotic disorder may experience delusions, hallucinations, disorganized thinking and speech, abnormal motor behaviors, and negative symptoms.