

MAP
6.3

DHAKA, BANGLADESH

Questions

- What is the role of geography in this situation?
- What are the political motivations of the countries and companies involved?
- What are the economic implications for the Bangladesh and the global garment industry?
- What role do social and cultural factors play in contributing to these types of conditions?
- Can the international community offer any solution?