

Transgender prisoners bring to light challenges in contemporary incarceration. How would you handle housing transgender prisoners in a fair and safe way? What other populations might require additional attention? Why?