

Vocational programs, like computer training, can help prisoners successfully reenter society. What other types of programs may help inmates stay out of prison?