

This police dog became sick after inhaling methamphetamine during a search in Ventura County, California. Under what circumstances should law enforcement agencies be allowed to use canines?