

» Try This Now

Consider the difference between the following two choices. Given our previous discussion, which is preferred?

1. Nasar and Devlin (2011) found that personalization and orderliness were positively related to judgments of the therapist's competence.
2. Personalization and orderliness were positively related to judgments of the therapist's competence (Nasar & Devlin, 2011).